

A Lecture by Drunvalo Melchizedek

(Title: "A Love Story" presented at the
Archangel Michael Conclave
Banff Springs Hotel
Canada, March 1994)

"This is a love story between you and me. There was a time before time, a long time ago, before we created this Universe, when you and I were One, absolutely One. Beyond any words, beyond anything that we can say, any thought that we can think, we were One. We were God. Before any of this waveform universe was created or any of the dimensional levels of it were created ... and it's vast, it's probably more vast than you know and yet, before all of this, you and I were in absolute unity. We decided to create, this universe, and we did it in a very specific way. We chose a specific shape which was not a shape then, which was a sphere. And from this sphere, everything that we know and don't know came. There are no exceptions whatsoever. All life forms, all bodies, all planetary forms and everything beyond that; all came out; of a simple little round ball.

Once we created this external universe, which in fact is an experiment for us, we then decided to get into it. It's no problem for Spirit, for Great Spirit, for God to be in more than one place at once. In fact, God can be in all places at once.

So, there was a division during the experiment. Part of the essence, beyond sex, remained outside of the experiment and part of God moved into the experiment ... that very specific pattern and shape which is sometimes referred to as the Merkaba ... the Spirit of God moved inside and began to experience directly what was created. That consciousness is now referred to as Melchizedek Consciousness. It was formless and there was nothing but Spirit and consciousness. There was no created thing other than the format. From there, the consciousness of God through Melchizedek divided itself one more time into the consciousness of Christ. That consciousness took on and contained the possibility of Form - all form at all levels came from the Christ and through the Christ. When the Melchizedek consciousness divided itself into the Christ, it automatically created a third component - something beyond itself and beyond the Christ, which could be referred to as the Supreme or Ultimate Personality of the Universe, that which contains all life. That Ultimate Personality is very often referred to as God. It's a Jehovah or Yahweh. It's given a name because it's within waveform and can contain a name. It is definable.

But the aspect of God outside the created Universe cannot be defined, cannot even be discussed. There's nothing inside of us on any level that can reach that except for Who We Are, which is that droplet of the original ... but there's no senses within us that can reach that point. We went on for a very long time in this particular way. These three components; in modern day times, are referred to as the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The Father is the Ultimate Personality, and the Son is the Christ, and the Holy Spirit (the formless) is the Melchizedek aspect.

They have been given many names, many times throughout space and time.

At one point, we realized that there was a particular way that we could experience this reality that had not been tried. And so, we tried it. We tried it several times actually. Each time, it failed. It was a disaster. The last time is often referred to as the Lucifer Rebellion. It was not really a rebellion, though it has been put in those terms and many people see it that way. It began with the angelic realms. You see, God created two very special angels. They were the most powerful ever created. One of them was Michael and the other was Lucifer. Lucifer knew the understanding of Knowledge from beginning to end. The only being that was beyond him was God Himself, which in this case we're referring to as the Supreme Personality, though the Christ and Melchizedek were also beyond that. Lucifer and Michael chose different paths which were divinely ordained. Michael remained connected to life, and to God, to all that was created and to the original plan. He remained connected to the formless and connected to the Light.

Lucifer's path was in the seed of his creation from the very beginning. The only one beyond him was the Holy Trinity, so he tried to be better than the Holy Trinity and tried to ascend to the heights of God. He created an external Merkaba, a synthetic field that was space-time dimensional, and was able to move through all space, time and dimensions. This is what we call a craft or a flying saucer. He was the originator of all of this.

Lucifer began to create a separate reality from that connected to Michael. This was ordained because life wanted to experience what this was.. Lucifer, however, believed that he could accomplish this in a way that would not end up the way it had the previous three times. Only a third of the angelic beings believed him.

In fact, even today, there's very little involvement in this thing we call the Dark and the Light. The majority of consciousness simply witness and does not become involved in it all in one way or the other. You have four kinds of beings out there in the existence of life. You have ones that are of the Light. Their purpose is to move into order and to bring harmony and peace, and love throughout the cosmos. You then have the beings of darkness or chaos who are opposed to the harmony, who bring chaos into the whole thing. There are also those who have chosen both ways, The vast majority of Life is neutral and doesn't do anything. It's simply watching the experiment within the experiment to see what's happening and which way it goes.

This experiment that Lucifer and Michael began is really brand new, not more than a couple of hundred thousand years old. The prior one to that ended between 900,000 to a million years ago. There are ones that go back farther than that,. So, this thing is so new, and it corresponds with the time when we became conscious on this Earth. So, stretching out through time and space, many beings and many levels of life began to create the separate reality and move into it. We did it too. All of us in this room chose the path of Lucifer - every one of us. We're here, and we're in a synthetic environment, and we're totally involved in synthetic understanding and science. Does Michael have spaceships? No. They can do anything without science because of their intimate connection with all Life and the original way that Life was created.

All of this has led to a situation throughout the cosmos that for a long time appeared to be going to end up in exactly the same way it had in the previous three times before this up until just recently. The complexity of what has taken place over the last 13,000 years is a little bit more than I can get into right now, but it's an extremely complex pattern of events that has occurred on Earth, and these patterns led to a series of events that started in 1972 that have led to a situation here on Earth that is absolutely unique in all created time and space. Never before, anywhere. We can't really perceive the incredible phenomena that is going on because we are on the inside of the experiment that is going on here. If we were outside of this on higher levels of consciousness looking back, then we would know. From where we are now, most of us are pretty veiled and can't see this. We can sense it ... we can feel that the events are moving very quickly.

In 1972, an experiment was initiated on this planet (by several races external to this planet, headed primarily by the Sirians and another race of beings within our solar system) that began in the middle of February 1972. This experiment has escalated into a series of events that have led to this extraordinary situation we are in. In the beginning, the Earth was really just a speck of dust in the middle of nowhere. In this galaxy alone, at least 80,000 other worlds were, almost identical to the situation we were in prior to 1972. On Earth, the situation began to go into a totally new pathway never seen before. It began to attract that attention of people from everywhere, even at the center of the galaxy, because it was something brand new. All of life began to focus on Earth. That itself is incredible, because attention itself affects the way or outcome of events.

The ascended masters, which are the cream of our particular evolutionary pattern who have gone ahead of us, who thought they understood exactly what was going on, began to act confused and didn't know what to do in many cases because every time they turned around they encountered a situation where there was no known memory pattern to deal with it. They think they know what they are doing now, but everybody is winging it.

Now, it appears to us that God, outside of this created experiment, is taking us to another level of existence beyond our imagination or what we can possibly dream of. It's a total recall. We are going home ... not just home, back to the original cycle of things, but back before this was ever created. Something real big is happening. Because of this, it requires a different viewpoint from the one we have held for a long time.

For a long time, it was necessary for Michael and Lucifer to struggle against each other. That was their job. They were supposed to do that. You see, it had a function beyond what you would normally think. What it did in the course of events is that it acted like a timing device. In other words, the forces of 'good' and 'evil' are constantly approaching you from all different directions and have a holy purpose that has to do with the timing of events. God works through both factions to achieve a sense of timing. In other words, the dark force, the dark brotherhood does everything it can to make sure that you don't evolve ... everything it can ... pull out all the stops ... do everything it can to stop you. The light force does everything it can to get you to raise up and move higher in consciousness. On a Unity level, they are working together, so that you move at exactly the right moment in time. The God that created both of them (the aspect that is beyond all of them) works through both of them not just one.

Because we have gone into polarity or duality consciousness, we have broken this down into "what is good" and "what is bad" and we now judge everything. Every single event that occurs ... the words I am speaking to you right now, you're judging moment to moment, whether I'm saying something "good" or something "bad", saying something "right" or something "wrong". From a higher level of life, only God is present here, only God is moving through my words all that is occurring is God. There's really nothing else. There is an absolute Unity that has always been and will always be, and we can't see it because we chose this particular pathway which was "right". We did the same thing. There's no reason to be guilty about this. We chose this, and it was what we were supposed to do.

Now, we have to take a different pathway. It's already occurring on the higher levels of life and that's why this conclave was allowed to take place ... why Michael allowed it to happen was because the dark and the light forces are now merging into oneness again. The war or the struggle that had gone on for so long which was necessary has now become unnecessary. A Unity that we once knew a long time ago ... we can all remember it, we know it, we can feel it, we've got it in here. That Unity is going to begin to move under the Earth. It's already moving into the higher dimensional areas of the Earth. It's already occurred. We're always the last ones to get it, you know. That's the way it is. It comes down through the planes and things happen on higher levels and it eventually manifests down here. This is already occurring. Lucifer and Michael have made an agreement, and the struggle is ending.

We, as leaders and you are the leaders in the world right now, you are the ones who other people will be looking to. You are the ones that must begin to live this new experience, and you do it through your life. There's no other way. Forget the words; they don't do much. It's how you are in your actions with all life. What it means is that we drop all judgments ... just eliminate them and come from a different place where we see that no matter what's occurring, there is absolute perfection in reality that's occurring ... that God is in every moment no matter what is happening, and that there is a higher purpose in it. Even if it's a war going on, drop all judgments of it being "good" or "bad" and begin to move from a place where you see that all of this, all that we have done over the past 200,000 years is going to take us to a place where God wants us to go, a place ... something we can't imagine right now. We simply can't. There are no words. I can't talk about it.

I know the steps that we will initially move through. I know these steps very well - I've been through them. I understand them, and I could talk about them. We will eventually come to this place that's beyond what I know and what Melchizedek knows and what Christ knows or even the Supreme Personality knows. We're going to go into something brand new.

This is really hard because the consciousness of "good" and "evil" is engrained in us so greatly ... It's in every cell in our body. It's a fine line until we get to the place, where we can move beyond all of this and realize that we just can't immediately become this other thing. Enlightenment is not a destination or a place you get to. It is a pathway or a journey that goes on with every breath, every moment along the way, and we grow into these other stages. The place where we move from is the "here and now". If when in a situation, we don't take it personally and begin to function from this state of pure consciousness if you do this and if you can begin to do this, you are going to find something very amazing begin to happen. The higher Spirit of God will begin to move through you in a brand new way and all that you do ... no matter how "little" it is can change the energies in a room in a way beyond what you would normally know ... and can affect life in a very positive way.

I don't know where all of this leads. I'm winging it too. I do know that this is what we have to do. We've got to stop our judgments and become simply compassionate. Forget all the hierarchy of who's higher and lower, who's better, who's worse. >From my point-of view, Jesus the Christ and a drunk in the gutter are at exactly the same level. We're all exactly the same. There is only God! It's all there is. There's nothing else. I really believe if we can incorporate this into our lives, that the power of the Universe will begin to use us, and work through us, to create the world that we are really looking for. The dark brotherhood and the light brotherhood appear to be so different that it doesn't appear or seem like it is even possible to find a dream, a reality, that could incorporate, both of those without; chaos. It never has before.

The Greys, for example, who have been searching so desperately for a way out because they know they can't get out of here within this existence. Instead of looking at these races and various people that have caused so much chaos as the "enemy", if we look at them as us, a part of us, and who we are and we hope and pray for a solution not just for the light to move up, but we hope and pray for a solution for the dark as well. We hope and pray that all of Who We Are (and we are all life) can find a way that we can live together and find love between all of us. That has always been considered impossible. I don't believe this any more. I believe that it is possible. I think that it is beginning right now, right here ... though there are other schools and mystery schools around the world where it is beginning at the same time. You already know this. This isn't anything new. It's a big deal if you have to live it. It's probably the hardest thing on the planet to do. You are going to continually get this message that this is what we have to do. We have to allow all of life to come back into Unity and back into Oneness again ... not just a little piece of it.

There's an event coming up in our lives. God, the Holy Trinity, working with God outside the Universe is about to create a show for all of us all over the world in various ways. It's a demonstration of the Great Spin that moves through all of us. It's going to happen over the next few years. I believe it's going to begin this year. I'm not much into being a prophet. I don't even like to do that especially under circumstances where events are moving so erratically. To prophesy at this point is really stepping on thin ice, because all the prophets right now are ... well, it's extremely difficult because of the rapid changes and the things that are going on.

Take a look at Edgar Cayce, for example. He made over 14,000 predictions. More than 12,000 of those have come true. He missed only 1 prediction of over 12,000 prior to 1972. After 1972 when certain changes were put into our environment, the prophecies of Edgar Cayce began to go astray in a lot of ways. They didn't really understand why this happened. Edgar Cayce didn't understand why. He was prophesying from the Akashic Records based on what would probably occur. You can get very accurate in those kinds of prophecies, but not when the very mode of the change of the reality is changing from minute to minute. This is a brand new situation. The same is true with the prophecies of Nostrodamus. He was about 80% correct until 1972. He's fallen way off. So, to make a prophecy right now is we could be heading for something and it's going to happen for sure, and then we all turn and move somewhere else.

What it looks like right now is that we're about to have the first major prophecy of the Hopis to occur later this year. We'll see. The Hopis predict that the sky will turn red. It's also predicted in Revelations in the Bible. There was a comet that began to approach Jupiter last year when we became aware of it. NASA predicted that the comet would strike Jupiter in December 1993. When the comet came back around the other side of the sun, they changed their prediction to July 1994. The first ones will strike around July 19th and the main group will hit on July 24th, which is right in the middle of the Sirian window, the Egyptian/Sirian window, which is one of the primary windows for Initiation. It's no accident that this thing is hitting at exactly this moment. It will be the biggest phenomenon of this kind ever recorded in the history of man. This is from a scientific point of view. It's going to be striking on the dark side of Jupiter just about one hour within our view.

There's a person named Maryann Shenfield, who is a psychic of extraordinary dimension. She is totally 100% blind. She told NASA that they were incorrect on their initial assessment of the comet hitting in December 1993. We've become very good friends. At one point, she allowed me to see what she sees. She sees the stars and planets. That's what is happening on a daily basis with her. She can move right up and across to Jupiter or anywhere else. She was able to prove this to NASA because she was able to move alongside their satellite probes and tell them what was happening and what the readings were. This absolutely blew their minds. They, in turn, have tracked her ... she can't breathe without them listening to anything she says. People like Richard Hoagland and Colin Andrews are also extremely interested in her because she has an eye into the solar system. That's extraordinary.

So, for a long time, she was actually floating alongside these asteroids, looking at them, telling NASA what was happening. Because they were breaking into pieces. She also predicted way back even before NASA knew what was going to happen in January that this event would compact the Earth's atmosphere in some way and cause the sky to turn red. From a scientific point of view, it's not real unusual. The sky is blue because the light passing through the atmosphere is polarized and the atmosphere appears blue, especially if the sun is directly overhead. As the sun begins to move down toward the outer edge of the horizon at sunset or sunrise, the light polarization shifts the color toward the red-orange because the light has to travel through denser atmosphere. If the atmosphere were to somehow become more dense in a generalized way, the color shift would predominantly be toward the color red.

Another aspect of this phenomena is that Jupiter is a huge gaseous planet. There is a low-level fusion reaction present. If these cometary pieces struck the planet in a very particular way (and this is not outside the possibility of present-day science) it could turn into a sun. That, of course, would definitely wake up a lot of people. These are the kinds of things you are going to begin to see as we begin to move into the hyperdimensional space that's around Earth -- fourth dimensional consciousness, fifth dimensional and higher. I think we will see these kinds of things even before we go into the mass ascension that will eventually occur. The events are there for us to remember.

The reason the Hopi put it into their prophecies was so that their people could remember, and when they saw this, they had a game plan of what exactly to do. They know exactly how to proceed once they see that particular sign. And you will, too. You will remember aspects of who you really are. You will begin to merge with parts of yourself on higher dimensional levels, what some people call the Higher Self, and things will begin to happen very naturally and organically. The only problem is the speed at which we are doing it, which is the part that we are concerned about because we're moving quickly in three kinds of ways. There will be changes in world view and in the way we view ourselves. What we think is true will constantly be wiped out and replaced by something that's more incredible but more workable. Growth patterns will become vaster and greater as we merge into higher and higher levels of understanding that already exist. There's no problem. We're going to go through this just fine. There is no reason for fear. We really should be happy and grateful that we have made it through to where we are now because we will go home now. The fears we have on all levels hold us back. They are necessary. They keep us from going until the right time. You will find at one point that you are going to let go of all your fears. You are going to become an absolutely fearless being and you are going to merge back on levels that are just incredible. We are really doing it now, though we're moving still pretty slowly. We are going to pick up the pace fairly soon.

What happened in 1972? We were created ... I can only say this quickly because we've got only a couple of minutes left here tonight. We were created by a race of beings, God uses people to create people. Just; like we, male and female, come together to create a child, races of beings create other beings. The father aspect of our species performed an experiment on Earth that was done legally, and got permission from the Galactic Command to do this -- it had never been done before. It was designed to prevent us from killing ourselves. If this experiment had not taken place, we would not be here now. The initial purpose of the experiment was to protect us from certain things going on in the environment of the solar system and to speed up our evolution so that we could get to a place where we could take care of this situation ourselves. However, this experiment speeded up our evolution faster than anything that has ever been done before. You can't feel it because you are inside the experiment. If you were outside the experiment, you'd be seeing it and your mouth would be wide open.

We have all kinds of harmonic nodes that are going on here between now and the year 2012. There will be an experiment which takes place that will end all experiments, and that experiment will last 12 days. December 24, 2012 will be the end of this experiment. It also happens to be the day when the Mayan calendar ends. They didn't go any further because there is no more time. We move into another level of time where the Mayan calendar is inappropriate.
